Uco Valley's Tunuyan region is considered by most experts as one of the best regions in the world for growing Malbec grapes. At an altitude of 4000 feet, with pure and clean water from the Andes mountains, Malbec thrives, producing excellent wines with expressive fruit and complex structure.

Tasting Notes

H Malbec has a deep violet and red color. Filled with aromas of plums, blackberries and charming violets floral notes. It has a medium body and excellent balance in the mouth. Great acidity and lingering flavors of dark fruits integrated with smoky and coffee notes from its oak aging give this Malbec a wide range of pairing alternatives. It goes well with lamb, poultry, beef and most cheeses. Ideal serving temperature: 65 ° - 68° F.

Elaboration Process

Hand picked grapes. Harvest on the 2nd and 3rd week of March. Temperature controlled fermentation. Aged in American and French oak barrels for 12 months.
