HERDADE PENEDO GORDO

Herdade Penedo Gordo 2020

Herdade Penedo Gordo: Esteves Montiero decided to expand outside of Vinho Verde planting vines in Alentejo using family land in the South of Portugal. ‘Penedo Gordo’ was the given name of the property long ago, according to the ancient registration documents recovered by Esteves. Penedo Gordo literally means “fat boulder” as a large granite boulder sits up on the hill looking down on the vineyards, however the soil consists of clay and schist.

D.O.C Alentejo: Alentejo, located in the southeastern part, encompasses nearly a third of the land area of Portugal. Alentejano has historically been known for cork and wheat farms until the E.U. invested in the region, which led to improvements in irrigation, viticulture, and winemaking. The landscape of Alentejo consists of undulating plains and gentle hills, with serious mountains only in the north east. Soils vary greatly: schist, pink marble, granite, limestone, often laid upon a sub-layer of water-retaining clay.
